Appeal From Phone Rate Boost Denied

Court's Brief Decision Validates Increase
Lansing, Nov. 12. (AP)—The state supreme court refused today to permit the city of Detroit and Attorney General Eugene F. Black to appeal from the state public service commission order raising Michigan Bell Telephone company rates $8,200,000 a year.

The court made no comment on the merit of the arguments submitted. It simply filed a memorandum saying "Application for leave to appeal denied."

Capital attorneys said they thought the decision meant that the rate increase was validated by the court's brief decision.

Williams said membership of his committee for the inaugural ball will be announced later. County chairmen will be advised by letter of the appointment of Democrats from all over Michigan to the committee, Williams said.

Defense Pact May Take In 12 Countries

Expansion Of Atlantic Alliance Proposed

BY JOHN SCALI
Washington, Nov. 12. (AP)—Top western diplomats will try to decide soon, perhaps next week, whether to expand the proposed Atlantic defense alliance from seven to at least 12 nations at the outset.

An answer to this question will be high on the program when the ambassadors from Britain, Canada, France, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg meet with Undersecretary of State Robert A. Lovett. Behind closed doors, they will discuss specific plans for welding Europe's free nations into a giant defense belt supported by American arms and dollars.

If all goes well, invitations to the governments of Italy, Portugal, the alliance would then go out to Iceland, Norway, Denmark, and perhaps Ireland.

Answer To Moscow

Countries accepting would be asked to send delegates to a full fledged defense conference some time in December. A formal alliance would be written at this meeting, pledging each nation to aid the rest in the event of attack. To put teeth into this alliance, the state department currently is planning to ask Congress for several billion dollars needed to buy arms and munitions for member countries.

Diplomatic officials drawing up these combined plans picture the treaty, plus the military lend-lease backing, as the west's answer to Moscow's continued pressure in Europe.

The date and place of the conference to write the treaty has not yet been decided. But some foreign diplomats said they favor meeting in late December, in Washington, Ottawa or Bermuda.

A conference lasting three or four weeks would still give the administration time to present the agreed-upon treaty to the Senate for ratification early after it convenes in January.

New Wage Boosts Of 7 To 10 Cents An Hour Predicted

By HAROLD W. WARD
Washington, Nov. 12. (AP)—Predictions of a fourth—and final—round of postwar wage boosts came today from an administration official weighing prospects for labor peace during the new Truman term.

The policy shaper, who asked not to be quoted by name, said he looks for the pay increases to average between seven and ten cents an hour.

But he qualified his final round forecast by pegging it to another—that living costs are about to level off.

If they do, he told a reporter, future wage talks will shift emphasis from prices to productivity. His contention is that only by boosting output can workers be sure of pushing their earnings upward, once their pay has caught up with prices.

Since the war, wages have gone up three times, by roughly 18 1/2, 15 and 11 cents an hour, with some fourth round increases of around 9 1/2 cents. These last, however, have not yet spread to the big, basic industries like steel and auto-making.

The administration labor official said preliminary plans being readied for President Truman's study call for a "reasonable compromise" on labor legislation and a greatly strengthened labor department.

On the issue of what to do with the Taft-Hartley act—which the Democrats are pledged to repeal and replace—the official marked down two provisions as the toughest to remove.

He listed them as (a) the provision dealing with national emer-

Soviets Don't Want Showdown In U.N.

Moscow Opposes Airing Of Berlin Deadlock

By JOSEPH E. DYNAN

Paris, Nov. 12. (AP)—Russia and the western powers were reported today to be opposed to airing the delicate Berlin deadlock in the United Nations general assembly.

Reliable sources said Argentine Foreign Minister Juan A. Bramuglia, November president of the security council, has asked U. N. Secretary-General Trygve Lie not to step into the Berlin case.

Sources close to Bramuglia said he was planning to deliver a similar message to Herbert V. Pyatt, Australian external affairs minister and president of the assembly, who has been reported ready to raise the Berlin issue in the 58-nation assembly.

Bramuglia's visit to Lie followed a series of conferences between him and delegates from the western and neutral nations on the security council.

Lie earlier this week had instructed U. N. legal and financial experts to study the Berlin monetary question. This was on the theory that only the issue of making the Soviet zone mark Berlin's sole currency really prevented an accord which would result in lifting of the Soviet blockade.

In the negotiations by the neutrals last month to end the deadlock between east and west over Berlin, the two sides could not agree on whether the blockade should be lifted before the Soviet mark was made Berlin's only currency—or vice versa.

Slevedores' Strike Nearing Zero Hour

Shipping On 3 Coasts May Be Bottled Up

By GEORGE W. CORNELL

New York, Nov. 12. (AP)—The zero hour neared today in a stevedores' strike that threatens to spread the length of the Atlantic seaboard and to the Gulf coast.

The bottling-up of virtually all American shipping on three coasts was feared, since western ports already are tied up by a maritime strike that began more than two months ago.

Ultimate scope of the east coast walkout, which to date has disrupted operations in several major ports, hinged on the final tally today of ballots by some 65,000 longshoremen.

A union official predicted the vote will be against acceptance of a proposed wage settlement.

The proposed agreement calls for an increase in day-shift, straight-time pay from $1.75 to $1.85 an hour, and in the night and weekend overtime rate from $2.62 1/2 to $2.77 1/2.

Demands of the Longshoremen are for an increase in straight-time pay to $2 an hour and in overtime pay to $3.00.

Endurance Flight Ends At 529 Hours With Crash Landing

Longview, Tex., Nov. 12. (AP)—The attempt of endurance fliers Fred Vinmont and Bert Simons to crack the world's record of 726 hours ended last night in a crash-landing.

The two men had been in the air 529 hours when they were forced to come down about 11 p. m. (CST).

Vinmont suffered a fractured nose in the landing. Both men were hurtled from the plane.

Houston Dean, ground chief for the fliers, said the plane's engine "froze" at between 900 and 1,000 feet. The pilots radioed they were coming down.

Reports reaching here indicate the comet has been widely observed in all parts of the world except Canada. Canada appears just a little too far north.

Court Gives Death Decree To Seven As Jap War Criminals

All 25 Convicted After 2 1/2 Year Trial

By RUSSELL BRINES

Tokyo, Nov. 12. (AP)—Death on the gallows was decreed today for Hideki Tojo, the cold, calculating Japanese who led his country to ruin in the world's bloodiest war, and six of his 24 top leaders.

Life imprisonment was meted out to 16 others, including the Marquis Koki Kido, close adviser to the emperor.

A seventeenth, Shigenori Togo, foreign minister at the time of the Pearl Harbor attack, drew 20 years in prison.

Aging, peg-legged Mamoru Shigemitsu, the statesman who hobnobbed aboard the battleship Missouri to sign the surrender terms in Tokyo bay, got seven years imprisonment.

Execution Not Set

An 11-nation court convicted all 25 defendants of war crimes. It sat for more than two and a half years. It took only 21 minutes to read the sentences.

Sir William Webb of Australia, president of the court, pronounced the sentences in a deathly silent and packed courtroom. Each man filed in separately and stood in an otherwise empty prisoner's dock to hear his sentence. Each attempted to subdue emotion, but varied reactions were noticeable.

Tojo took his death sentence with a wan smile. He bowed politely to the court as did most of the other men.

Seventy-four year old Gen. Jiro Minami, former war minister, seemed befuddled and surprised with his sentence of life imprisonment. Gen. Hiroshi Oshima, former ambassador to Germany, stood arrogantly as he was sentenced to life and stalked away without the polite bow.

Japanese greeted the sentences in varied ways. Some said they thought more would be hanged and others said they were sorry for the defendants.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur, Allied occupation commander, set Nov. 19 as the deadline for petitions in behalf of the defendants to be submitted to him as reviewing officer of the tribunal's decision.

Fumes Kill Family In Partly Finished Ingomar, Pa., Home

Ingomar, Pa., Nov. 12. (AP)—A man, his wife, and their three small children died in their partially finished home after being overcome by what the coroner's office said were carbon monoxide fumes.

The victims were identified as William Crisman, 32, his wife, Frances, 28, and their children, Florita, 7, William, 5, and Joanna, 4.

Dr. E. R. Presinger of Ross township said the deaths yesterday were caused by carbon monoxide.

Crisman had started building the small home earlier this year in Franklin township, 10 miles northwest of Pittsburgh. The family later moved in and lived in a section of the house originally designed for a garage.

The bodies were discovered by Mrs. Crisman's brother when he went to the house to see why his sister failed to keep an appointment.

Allegheny county Detective John Hovatt said a gas circulator heater was turned on but the flame apparently had gone out.

It was reported that the line began to form at 1:30 a. m. (EST) today. The deer season opens Monday.

Top Truman Aides Plan New Cabinet

President Not Vindictive About Foes In Party

BY ERNEST B. VACCARO

Key West, Fla., Nov. 12. (AP)—Three members of President Truman's top Democratic command interrupted their conferences with the chief executive today for a flying trip to Havana.

Senator Aiken W. Barkley, the vice president-elect; Senator J. Howard McGrath, Democratic national chairman; and Leslie L. Bile, director of the Senate Democratic policy committee, planned to be gone only a few hours, however.

McGrath flew here from Washington yesterday to step up the pace of discussions looking to a reorganization of the administration.

He would not comment on what recommendations he had in mind, but told reporters he believed the president would forgive the "venial" sins by Democratic officials, if not they were not the "mortal" sins that "kill the soul."

Some Jobs Safe

At the same time, other sources close to the president said there would be numerous changes in top level jobs, in addition to some in the cabinet, as the aftermath of the presidential election campaign.

They agreed with McGrath that Mr. Truman is not in a vindictive mood, but said that he was well aware where his strongest support came from.

He is known to be pleased with the efforts of Secretary of Labor Tobin, Attorney General Clark, Secretary of the Treasury Snyder, Secretary of Agriculture Brannan and Postmaster General Donaldson.

Furthermore, he wants Secretary of State Marshall to remain in that post as long as he is willing to stay on the job. His warm personal friendship and admiration for the general may result in keeping Marshall at work despite the secretary's desire to go into his long-deferred retirement.

Forrestal To Go

The two will talk it over when Marshall next returns from Paris to review the international picture with the president again.

Most of the other members of the cabinet are under fire in Democratic circles.

Secretary of Defense Forrestal and Undersecretary of State Lovett are expected to step out soon.

One source unusually close to the president, but unquotable by name, said the president was being asked to drop Secretary of Commerce Sawyer and Secretary for Air Symington. Criticism also has been voiced against Secretary of Interior Krug.

German Industries Tied Up By Strike

Frankfurt, Germany, Nov. 12. (AP)—A one-day strike by millions of Germans protesting the mounting cost of living virtually paralyzed the British and American zones today although some workers disregarded the strike call.

Halting street car service gave ordinarily teeming cities such as Hamburg an almost deserted look.

Shops were closed, with iron grates over the doors, except for food and milk stores which opened for two hours. Some other shop proprietors opened their doors optimistically but closed shortly afterward because few persons were on the streets.

The walkout left the Ruhr, industrial heart of Europe, idle for the first time since the war. The miners held a one-day strike once before as a protest against food shortages, but this time workers from steel plants and other factories joined them.

CITY EMPLOYEES ASK INCREASES

Cost Of Living Boost Is Considered Here

An increase in the cost of living bonus being paid to city employees was discussed by the Escanaba civil service commission at its meeting Thursday afternoon, but action was deferred until further information is obtained on the city's financial condition.

Representatives of the city employees union, the electricians' union and the firemen's union attended the meeting and requested the commission to give consideration to wage increases for city employees. The electricians' union requested a wage rate of $1.50 per hour for city electricians.

City Manager A. V. Aronson reported that the cost of living index has increased six points since the last bonus increase was adopted. Aronson said that this would indicate that an increase of $6 per month in the cost of living bonus would be fair and proper. The present cost of living bonus being paid to city employees is $69 per month, which is added to their base pay rates.

A suggestion for automatic pay adjustments based upon the cost of living factor was presented to the commission and a survey is now being taken among city employees to determine their reaction to this proposal. The adjustment would be made with each change of two points in the cost of living factor.

Aronson said that an increase of $6 per month to city employees as a boost in the cost of living bonus would cost between $7500 to $8000 per year.

American Girls Enjoy 'Skol Kok' In Sweden

By MRS. HERMAN G. NELSON

Stockholm, Sweden (By AP Wire)—My daughter, Margaret, brought home a loaf of bread she had baked in school today. It was truly good, and you should see the glow of pride on Margaret's face as we ate it with great relish.

The girls are getting a wonderful education in the Enskede branch of Sodra Kommunala Mellan skolan. Boys and girls from 13 to 16 years old attend this school, and they are divided into four classes.

Both Ruth Mae and Margaret enjoy "skol kok" (school kitchen) which they have for four periods every Friday morning. Then both boys and girls put on white aprons and get ready for what they call a morning of fun, but really the most kind of education.

The boys and girls are divided into groups of three, and every one is given something to do. One group prepares the dessert course and washes and wipes all cooking dishes. Another makes the main course and sets the table while a third group is busy baking or canning. The groups alternate each week, so all have a chance at preparing the different parts of a meal.

About 10:30 a. m. on Fridays, the 20 hungry boys and girls in that class sit down to a tasty lunch.

Ruth Mae and Margaret have already prepared at home some of the dishes they have learned to cook in school and Margaret says she is going to bake all the bread we need from now on.

In this Mellan school, which translated means "Middle" school, the students learn about the same subjects they do in our American high schools. Only they have a wider variety of subjects and they do not take every subject every day.

For instance, here is Margaret's course of study, the figures showing the number of periods they have that subject each week: Swedish (3); chemistry (3); English (3); gymnastics (3); French (4); mathematics, with considerable geometry, (3); geography (2); biology and botany (2); physics (2); Christianity (2); history (3); music (1); slojd, or manual arts, (3); skol kok, or school kitchen (4); and art (2).

Learning French Margaret is learning French in Swedish. The girls knew very little Swedish when they came here last August, but now they must get along in Swedish with their schoolmates. The latter practice their English on the girls too.

During the fall months, many school girls are given released time to go out in the country to pick potatoes. They help harvest the Swedish potato crop and get good pay for doing it. They think it fun.

Wilhelm Moberg, the well-known Swedish writer who has been spending some time in northern Michigan, had a most interesting article in the Stockholm paper, Svenska Dagbladet, on "What Do We Know About the Swedes in America". He points out that more than 1,000,000 persons left Sweden to settle in America and that their number now in Canada and the United States is somewhere between two and three million.

He says: "The Swedish people have thus become divided into two large parts, who live in each their own part of the world, divided by the ocean. He points out that a similar thing happened to Norway and Ireland.

It is Moberg's contention that each division should know more about each other, and it appears from all reports in Sweden that the recent Swedish pioneer centennial observance held last summer will serve that very purpose.

Dr. Gunnar Granberg, director of the Swedish Institute and one of the delegates in the Sweden group for the pioneer events and a visitor in Escanaba with Prince Bertil, also wrote in the same newspaper as Moberg that he agrees fully with Moberg that there is great need for a wider and deepened information in Sweden about the Swedish element in America.

Swedish Information

And Dr. Granberg feels that Sweden should be better informed about everything in the United States inasmuch as the Swedish element is now an integrated part of the United States. He points out that the Swedish Institute aims to provide part of the information but that the field can be greatly widened. Mary American students now are studying in Sweden, he says, and Swedish professors have been supplied to a number of the leading American universities, where they are reaching American students as a whole.

Dr. Granberg feels that Sweden is doing quite well in supplying information about itself in America but that the United States is not doing as well in acquainting Sweden about America.

Our girls, Ruth Mae and Margaret, are doing their part in acquainting a small group of Stockholm boys and girls about America in their own way. They are frequently called upon to make short talks about their home conditions. While their speeches may not be too mature, yet they are at least sowing the seed of interest in America among the Swedish boys and girls with whom they come into contact. That interest is great.

A number of Estonian girls have been transferred to the school here from a more crowded school and thus this Sodra Kommunala Mellan skolan has taken on an international flavor. These Estonian girls come from refugee families who came to Sweden three and four years ago and who are now growing up in Sweden, but with the home that some day the conditions will be such they can safely return to their home

Alfred Groos Gives Progress Report To Historical Society

The Delta County Historical Society at its November meeting last night in Carnegie Public Library heard Alfred Groos of Groos present a progress report in his search to locate the site of the century-old Louis Roberts dwelling along the Escanaba river.

Groos informed the group that so far his search has been unsuccessful but his investigation will continue. Louis Roberts was one of the first settlers in this county. Some records place Robert's arrival in the county as early as 1830, and others as late as 1846.

Photostatic copies of the original government survey from Lansing, were inspected and discussed at the meeting. Groos had hoped the maps would reveal the exact location of the old Louis Roberts home site. Although the maps did not locate the Robert's place, they did contain much information not previously known to the Historical Society concerning this part of the county.

The next meeting of the Historical Society will be held at Rock, with Arvid Mustonen of Rock chairman of arrangements.

U. P. Legion Posts To Hold Midwinter Meet in Newberry

The midwinter conference of the Upper Peninsula Association of American Legion Posts will be held in Newberry Jan. 21-23, it was announced this morning by Cliff W. Vadnais, Escanaba, commander of the U. P. association.

DELTA WORKERS NOW ORGANIZED

Employees Of County And Gladstone Form Union

Employees of Delta county and of the city of Gladstone are now organizing a local union of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, a non-striking organization affiliated with the American Federation of Labor.

At the last meeting of the local group, held Wednesday night in the court house at Escanaba, Emil Johnson of Escanaba, a deputy sheriff, was elected chairman, and Miss Marie Peters, register of probate, was elected secretary-treasurer.

Additional officers will be elected as the organization is extended to include more members from Gladstone city employees. The next meeting of the organization will be held Dec. 16 in Gladstone and by that time the organization's charter is expected to be received.

Chairman Johnson said today it is expected that every department of the county, with the possible exception of the county road commission, will be represented in the organization. Each group will have a vice-chairman representing it in the union. Several road commission employees have expressed interest in becoming members and further information is to be supplied that group at a future meeting of the road commission employees' social club.

The union now being formed has 25 members, with the prospect of additional members from Gladstone. The organization is similar to that formed by Escanaba city employees.

Principal objectives of the new local is to obtain the benefits of civil service, to seek social security for public employees, and to come under the provisions of unemployment compensation, Chairman Johnson said.

'Old Baldy' Goes To Cranbrook

Blaney Park, Mich.—Old Baldy the eagle, whose freedom of the air was cut short by a trigger-happy hunter some weeks ago, will spend the rest of his days at Cranbrook, Bloomfield Hills. Picked up on the shore of Lake Michigan near Simmons Woods in half-starved condition Old Baldy was put in the care of Dr. Karl Christofferson, noted Ornithologist of Blaney Park, and nursed back to health at Tee Lake Bird Sanctuary. The eagle will never fly again, according to Dr. Christofferson. The right wing was so badly mangled by shot that it could not be reset. "I wanted it to have a good home, so arranged for it to be sent to the Walter Nickell Institute of Science at Cranbrook where it will have the best of attention for the rest of its days," said the doctor.

Five Apply For Wells Postoffice

Washington, D. C. (WNS)—Five applicants are seeking the $2,750 a year job as postmaster at Wells, it was learned today at the Civil Service Commission.

They are William J. Wigand, Mrs. Mildred M. Casey, John R. Collins, Wilfred J. Casey, and Vernon C. White.

It Takes Elephant To Move Islands

Bangkok (P)—A piece of Siam's frontier territory is drifting into Burma, thanks to a herd of Siamese wild elephants. It happened like this:

In the River Mae Sai the boundary between Burma and Northern Siam is a fertile island named Koh Chang. Koh Chang is Siamese territory because it is nearer to Siam's side of the river than to Burma's.

But an elephant tribe for many years has travelled at night along a path in Siam, parallel to the river. Their heavy feet during the years wore the path into a real depression. When rains caused the river to break its banks, the water rushed into the elephant path, eroding it into a deep stream. If the new path of the river gets wide enough, and the river gets eroded away, the island will lie on the Burmese side of the river's center line.

The Siamese Parliament member of the area said a dam would be built to halt the river's erosion and to keep the island in Siam. If that doesn't work, he said sadly, he would lose several hundred loyal voters and Siam's government would lose the revenue from good tobacco crops grown on the 9,600 square kilometers of island.

'Tale Of Two Cities' To Be Heard Tonight

Charles Dickens' masterful story of the French Revolution, "A Tale of Two Cities," has been selected as the seventh radio drama to be broadcast tonight in "Great Scenes from Great Plays" over station WDGB by Protestant Episcopal families in Escanaba. Brian Aherne, for many years a star on Broadway and in Hollywood, plays the role of Sidney Carton, the brilliant London lawyer who sacrifices his life on a French gallows to save the life of Charles Darnay, his friend, and husband of the girl he loves. The program will start at 8 o'clock.

This story of self-sacrifice—of innocent victims caught up by forces much greater than themselves—of one man who redeemed himself and others by a great act of selfless love is undoubtedly one of the greatest dramas of all time. It is also a story of great strength and great emotional appeal.

One of the principles of the Christian religion is the power of self-denial and self-sacrifice. It is also one of the principles most easily overlooked or forgotten, which is why "A Tale of Two Cities" was chosen to give added emphasis to this point. Only by sacrifice of selfish interest can a satisfactory family life be built. Only by mutual sacrifice can sound relations be established between peoples of different racial origin and religion and only by mutual sacrifice can the nations of the world build a permanent and enduring peace.

Snow Geese Visit Blaney First Time

Blaney Park.—For the first time in nineteen years since the Tee Lake Bird Sanctuary was inaugurated at Blaney Park Snow Geese have put in an appearance. One hundred and thirty-seven birds landed on the lake three weeks ago and have remained ever since. With the Snow Geese came thirty-five "Blue Geese," which remained on the lake only a few days. The Snows have joined with some two hundred Canadas on the shore in front of Dr. Karl Christofferson's cottage in the sanctuary and are fed daily by him. "I've been here for 19 years," said the doctor, "and this is the first time Snows have come in. We have many families of Canadian Geese nest here each year and hundreds more have come in to feed, but this is my first experience with Snows—I'm trying hard to make them feel safe and secure here so they will become annual visitors. Many Blaney Park guests have seen them and photographed them. They will be shown in motion pictures in many homes this winter. I now have the Canadas so they will follow me around; maybe I can get the Snows to do the same."

SWEETS BLAMED FOR BAD TEETH

Advise Children To Cut Down Eating Sweets

Eating sweets is the major cause of tooth decay among Michigan children. That is what Dr. Fred Wertheimer, director of the bureau of public health dentistry of the Michigan Department of Health said in reviewing current dental research. He said also that the decay is occurring many times more rapidly than the dental profession can provide corrective treatment.

Dr. Wertheimer urged parents and teachers to attempt to cut down on children's use of gum—including the bubble variety—candy, pop, and chocolate syrup drinks, cookies, cake, pie, jam, jelly and sugar.

Research has shown, he said, that decay is started by acids resulting from the action of bacteria on refined sugars and starches in the mouth.

"Brushing the teeth or washing the mouth immediately after eating sweets would help some," he said, "but what child would rush off to brush his teeth as soon as he had finished a pop?"

How serious the caries problem is, is shown by these facts. At the age of 10 the average child has five permanent tooth surfaces attacked by caries; at the age of 18, he has 20 surfaces attacked; and at the age of 30, more than 45 surfaces attacked.

Research has shown that caries actively will decrease in direct proportion to the extent sugar is cut from the diet. This change has been observed in as little as two weeks time in studies conducted at the University and it was evident over a period of several years in European countries where sugar was extremely short during the war.

Caries, Dr. Wertheimer said, is the chief cause of loss of teeth among people under 30 years of age. Principal hope of saving these teeth lies in more general use of the sodium fluoride treatment. Swabbed over children's teeth, sodium fluoride can reduce tooth decay 40 to 50 per cent, even when the sugar intake has not been cut.

Other agents are being developed to counteract the harmful effect of sugar, but until these agents are in more general use, parents can save their children's teeth by cutting down on the sweets each child is permitted to eat.

Houghton Police Chief Dismissed

Houghton, Mich.—Ernest Klingbell was dismissed as chief of police of Houghton Village by President John Stevens after he refused to comply with a resolution adopted by the council demanding strict and absolute enforcement of the parking meter ordinance.

The council insisted that police officers, without exception, issue tickets immediately after the "violation" flag shows on the meter. Klingbell argued that from his experience this policy would result in injustice to many motorists, and that a certain period of "grace or consideration" should be extended, within the judgment of the police officers. He said it had been his policy to give from five to 10 minutes "grace" before issuing tickets.

Members of the council maintained too much leniency was being shown in the enforcement of the parking meter ordinance, but Klingbell insisted that he would not concede to the council's wish for "strict" enforcement, and that, as long as he was chief of police, he would continue his past policies.

The meeting of the council adjourned without definite action, but, after adjournment, Klingbell brought the matter to a climax in the lobby of the Community building when he asked, "What are you going to do about it?"

Several members of the village board asked Klingbell whether his attitude could be considered a resignation, and he emphatically replied in the negative.

"No," Klingbell said, "you will have to fire me." After this remark, President Stevens told Klingbell he was "fired", and the lobby assemblage broke up.

Going Hunting?

MICHIGAN'S deer hunting season opens next Monday, Nov. 15, and for two weeks Upper Michigan forests will be occupied by thousands of hunters. Undoubtedly the deer kill will be heavy, for sportsmen and game wardens report an abundance of deer.

Hunters are once again reminded that preparations for the deer season properly consist of something more than securing the supplies—ammunition, food, refreshments, etc.—required for the hunting camp. Mental preparation also is in order if the heavy toll of human life is to be reduced this deer season.

The deer hunter who goes to camp with a determination to get his buck at any cost is a dangerous fellow in the woods. He is the kind of guy who shoots at anything that moves in the hope that perhaps it might be a legal buck. Unfortunately, all too frequently the target is another hunter.

Much of the tragic toll of the deer hunt can be sharply reduced before the season opens if each hunter would resolve in his own mind that he is not going to fire his rifle until he is sure that his target is a legal deer.

Hunters, particularly those planning their first deer hunting trip, also are reminded that it is extremely important to carry a compass and to know how to operate it. It is a simple matter to lose a sense of direction in the woods—even the veteran hunters experience that uncomfortable situation occasionally. Be sure your compass is a good one, completely reliable, and then depend upon it. More than one hunter has wandered aimlessly in the woods because he lost faith in his compass.

More Inflation Ahead

THE bureau of labor statistics has announced that wage increases since V-J day have been more than wiped out by higher prices. Labor organizations are gathering an offensive for a fourth round of wage increases and, of course, will use the government report as a level to pry fatter paychecks.

Entirely lost sight of, however, is a very significant fact. Three rounds of wage boosts have not solved the problem of balancing workers' wages with the cost of living, measured in terms of price indexes. A fourth round of wage increases will not solve the problem, either. Inevitably prices will again rise to wipe out the wage gains, continuing the vicious spiral of inflation that is already the most pressing problem confronting the nation.

The only wage boosts that actually increase the standard of living are those that are predicated upon increased production. In those cases the additional commodities or services produced tend to reduce prices. Wage boosts not tied in with increased production, however, quickly are reflected in higher prices.

It has been argued that if only increased wages paid to workers were passed on to consumers, the additional cost of commodities would be negligible. In practice, increases are made along the line from the manufacturer to the jobber to the retailer and ultimately to the consumer. Added to these boosts are higher taxes. The fellow caught in the tightest squeeze is the man living on a fixed income.

Labor's success in forcing three rounds of wage boosts in successive years since V-J day indicates that it can force another round if it chooses to do so. The gimmick is that labor will not solve the problem by this method but will only add more fuel to the fire of inflation.

U. N. Raps Soviet Satellites

THE United Nations political committee has demanded that Albania, Bulgaria and Yugoslavia stop aiding the guerrillas fighting the Greek government. Only Russia and her satellite nations voted against the resolution which was carried, 48 to six.

The action of the UN committee will not change the situation in Greece to any appreciable extent, if at all. The committee did not directly point an accusing finger at Soviet Russia although it is Russia that is supplying the arms and supplies for the so-called Greek guerrillas. Albania, Bulgaria and Yugoslavia are Soviet satellite countries, each with a Communist government. None of these nations could continue to supply Greek rebels with guns, ammunition, etc., in the face of the American military mission in Greece, except for the flow of these materials from Russia itself.

By supplying the guerrillas with arms and other equipment Russia had hoped to engineer a Communist corps in Greece which would seize control of the government. That has been averted only because of the assistance given to the Greek government by the United States.

The Soviet delegate opposing the resolution declared that its passage would constitute UN endorsement of American "interference in the internal affairs of Greece." The huge majority of the members of the United Nations showed by their affirmative vote on this resolution a recognition of the fact that American assistance is going to Greece to fulfill the guarantee of the Allied powers during the war that Greece would be assured of a government of her own choice.

We're Making Progress

ONE of the remarkable things about the 1948 presidential campaign was that nobody, so far as we know, quoted George Washington's admonition about "entangling alliances" or inserted it in a political speech. This may be taken as proof that the American trend of thought has changed, not only since Washington's time but in the last generation.

Twenty-eight years ago this country had another first postwar election. There was no such thing then as a bi-partisan foreign policy. There was not even a pretense of it, nor was it thought necessary. The League of Nations was the issue, and opinion was sharply divided. To join or not to join: that was the question.

We remember some of the non-joiners' arguments in the 1920 campaign. We remember how they bristled with indignation at the thought of our having to contribute armed forces, as League members, if we were called upon to help put down the threat of future war. Let 'em settle their own troubles and fight their own wars—that was the general idea.

The non-joiners were short-sighted in refusing to face the obligation of having to help in preventing future conflicts. But they were not as short-sighted as they would be today. For the science of physical destruction has progressed farther since Warren G. Harding was elected president than it did between the Washington and Harding administrations.

It doesn't seem that 1920 was so very long away. But in 1920 there were no 10,000-mile-range airplanes. Our two oceans were still effective barriers against the outer world. The war that had ended two years before had seemed so horrible that any serious thought of a repetition was fantastic. There were frightened speculations as to what "the next war" might be like. But the actuality of saturation bombings, atomic explosives, guided missiles and bacteriological weapons was something the general public never dreamed of.

Sociologists and psychologists tell us, with considerable truth, that one of the perils of civilization is mankind's failure to catch up, culturally and emotionally, with its scientific progress, to say nothing of its increasing efficiency in self-destruction. But the 1948 election was a heartening sign that the American branch of mankind, as a whole, is at least conscious of its place in the world.

While there were naturally dissenters in both major parties, there was no official denial of the responsibility that goes with this nation's strength and resources. There was no assumption that the United States exists for itself alone, or that it is invulnerable, or that "entangling alliances" are to be avoided if peace is to be attained.

In this admission of reality, the American people gave notice that their thinking is not far behind their material progress. At the same time they reconciled that material progress with their heritage from the founders of the republic—a heritage that proclaims the ideal of freedom and justice not only for residents of the North American continent, but for all mankind.

The question before the house is when will they come down to a price where the average person can buy one?

The nation's hens lay approximately 1000 eggs per second, coming in second to radio comedians.

An eastern woman is going to marry a man who broke her nose in an argument. Just give her time—she'll get even!

What this country needs is a groom who fits the collar ads and a bride who fits the stocking ads.

SOME MATTERS OF PRONUNCIATION
The dictionaries are slowly but more or less surely getting around to reporting American pronunciations as Americans say them. I do not imply, of course, that all dictionaries have turned over a new leaf and have forsaken some of the absurd never-to-be-heard pronunciations which they recommend as correct.

The earlier dictionaries, like Webster's New International, Funk and Wagnall's New Standard, Appleton's New Century, Winston's, and MacMillan's, still assure us solemnly that baton is "BAT-un," chiffon is "SSHIF-un," the bugle call reveille is "re-VAIL-yi," carburetor is "KAHR-byoo-RET-er," etc.

But such pronunciations are as dead as the dodo, if indeed they ever did exist. The newer dictionaries have rejected most of the pronunciation relics which are so dear to the hearts of the long-bearded lexicographers.

For instance, if you prefer to say PUNG-kin for pumpkin, you have the blessing of Kenyon and Knott's Pronouncing Dictionary, Funk and Wagnall's New College Dictionary, Thorndike Century, and the American College Dictionary.

Likewise, you may keep on saying AM-uh-chur for amateur, and most of the newer tomes will back you up. Also, you need not say "SEAR-up" for sirup unless you prefer it, for the prevailing "SUR-up" now enjoys ample dictionary sanction.

And, wonder of wonders, at least one dictionary—Kenyon and Knott's—has at last had the courage to recognize "ketcher" for the word catcher (baseball). It's the only pronunciation ever heard in the world of sports.

Of course, I am not recommending

Stripling Should Be Given Boot

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Washington.—The score on the House un-American activities committee as of today stands: Chairman J. Parnell Thomas indicted by a federal grand jury on a charge of conspiracy to defraud the government; Reps. Richard B. Vail of Illinois and John McDowell of Pennsylvania defeated by the voters in their respective districts.

Rep. Karl Mundt of South Dakota was elected to the Senate. This leaves only one Republican survivor unscathed. That is Rep. Richard M. Nixon of California, who was re-elected in a contest in which his only opponent was a Wallaceite.

This illustrates once again the high mortality rate of the members of a committee which has managed from the beginning to get into hot water and stay there. Of the members appointed when the committee was formed in 1938, Thomas is the only one to come through the storm and strife to the present.

REP. DIES, FIRST CHAIRMAN
The first chairman was Rep. Martin Dies of Texas. In his swash-buckling, slapdash way, he set the pattern. With one eye on newspaper headlines and the other on the newsreel cameras, Dies ignored ordinary rules of procedure in a search for sensations.

Dies was defeated when he ran for the Senate in 1944. The votes of organized labor contributed substantially to that outcome.

Four others of the original members ultimately went down to defeat. This included former Rep. Jerry Voorhis of California even though he had tried to curb some of the excesses that had brought sharp criticism. Rep. Noah Mason of Illinois got off the committee and he has been returned at succeeding elections including the one last week.

After he took over as chairman, Thomas succeeded in making Dies look like a sternly objective statesman. Behind the scenes, a babal of newspaper men and informers really ran the committee, under the tutelage of the secretary, Robert E. Stripling. Interestingly enough, has survived while the congressmen he coached and prodded went down to disaster and oblivion.

Criticism of the committee came not merely from labor and the left. By its methods the committee seemed determined to punish as well as to investigate and expose. Americans of conservative opinion felt that there was an attempt by Congress to usurp the functions of the courts.

THOMAS VERY SUSPICIOUS
Individual cases brought wide indignation. Thus Dr. Edward U. Condon, head of the Bureau of Standards, was smeared in a public statement and yet, in spite of his repeated requests, never given a chance to answer the vague charges publicly made against him.

Thomas is a man of dark suspicions and inquisitorial temperament. He has a kind of self-righteousness which persuades him that he is saving the republic from imminent danger.

Two years before the Republican sweep of 1946, a Democratic House voted to give the committee permanent status as a standing committee. Southern Democrats combined with Republicans and the vote was 208 to 186 over the indignant protests of those who felt this was blanket approval for outrageous committee procedure.

In the new Congress there certainly will be a strenuous attempt to wipe out the un-American committee. Many incoming Democrats will take it as part of their mandate to try to eliminate it.

Democratic leaders in the House will be sympathetic to such a move. But they are not optimistic over its success. Southern Democrats seem certain to vote to continue it and so will old line Republicans.

It is the committee is continued, the chairman will be Rep. John S. Wood of Georgia. At his home in Canton, Ga., Wood said he favored continuing the committee, believing it has an important function to perform.

"We can run it without witch hunts," he said. "We can treat people fairly and proceed in an orderly way. I was chairman of the committee from July of '45 to January of '47 and I didn't hear much criticism then."

If the committee is to perform any sort of useful function, it will have to overcome the serious handicap of its past reputation. One of the first steps would be to eliminate Stripling.

At least two new Republicans must be appointed. Given the committee reputation for disaster and oblivion, something like the curse of King Tut's tomb as advertised by the Sunday supplements, it may be hard to find two new victims.

"ketch, ketcher, ketching" in non-baseball language. The rhyme with "match" is best usage. But the language of sports makes its own rules. It has always been "ketcher," and it always will be, I dare say.

Now why doesn't some dictionary writer recognize the word rare in the meaning of "to rise on the hind legs; to start up in hot resentment"?

The dictionaries, without exception, tell us that the correct word is rear, pronounced: rear. But we don't say rear—we say rare, as to rare back, to rare up, raring to go, etc.

It may not be very classical English; but no one can deny that rare is sound colloquial American. So why not rare back and tell the dictionaries about it? It's time they were knowing.

"What Do I Do Now, Sam?"

Good Evening

By Clint Dunathan

IN THE MAIL—From B. I. Mohundro of Fayette comes a post-election letter that should, in my opinion, be printed. It has never been my intention to open this column to political debate, and I don't believe Mr. Mohundro wants to get into any argument about politics. But he does have something to say, and at the close of his letter he says he doesn't expect to see it published. Well, it is going to be published and I intend to answer it, if space allows. He begins:

"Here is a poor man's slant on the election. To the Republican party—Boo!"

"I heard the vast radio network the other night as they switched from one leading newspaper to another, all over the United States. And I think (and there is no law that says a man can't think) that all of them, including the Daily Press, had a Republican ring. I could imagine the reading between the lines, and it would go something like this: There goes our well-paying advertising party, the rich man's party, that has no respect for the laboring class of people."

HIS EXAMPLE—Mr. Mohundro's letter continues:

"My father was a Republican, raised a big family, fed us on corn bread and sorghum molasses, gave us 25 cents a year on the Fourth of July. While he fought for the Republican party they gave him three cents a pound for beef on the hoof and lived on the fat of the land themselves. While us kids went without schooling and only half enough to eat."

"Under the Hoover Republican administration I was grown up and farming for myself. Again we went hungry, half-fed and half-schooled. We got under the administration 13 cents per pound for butterfat. Why the pigs even went hungry, squealed all through that administration. While Mr. Hoover sat in the White House smoking good cigars and living on the fat of the land, never giving the laboring class of people a crumb of that fat."

SIGLER AND ROADS—Coming down to the present day, Mr. Mohundro writes:

"Here is what we have received under your Republican Gov. Kim Sigler, who is going on vacation for a good rest. I hope it lasts him a lifetime."

"In Fairbanks township the farmers and fishermen produce many things that go on the Republican menu. We were to get a blacktop road to haul this produce over under the Republican administration. My guess is that the Republicans used the tax money to repave their roads that they have always so used under their administration. As I have stated before, we all work for a living in Fairbanks township, and a lot of us manage to drive good cars. And here is what I want our Democratic nominee Mennen Williams to do: Come over here and drive his car over these roads that Sigler has provided for us to haul our produce over."

"I would advise him to bring an expert car washer with him for they have resorted to using yellow clay instead of gravel. It is cheaper and easier applied. I wish he could have a picture of our cars in this township. They are so plastered with that sticky clay that you can't tell one make from another."

"I have tried hard to get a mile and a half of road built to connect two roads together so that farmers living off the main highway could have the mail route. I have also tried every angle to get a telephone in here. I hear the same old story—no help, no money. I beg somebody that pulls the reins over the tax money to investigate the conditions of Fairbanks township."

THE ANSWER—Mr. Mohundro has covered a lot of ground but I'll try and comment on some of the points he makes:

1—Newspapers are Republican in policy because they receive advertising, you say. I say they are Republican in their editorial outlook because they have an honest conviction that the Republican party is better for the nation—and there's no law that says a newspaper can't have an honest conviction. If the newspapers were after advertising they would have no policy at all and play sponks with any party in power.

2—The Republican party "has no respect for the laboring class of people," you say. I say the Republicans have just as much respect for the "laboring class" as the Democrats. But organized labor is ready and willing to sell its collective vote to the highest bidder. Note John L. Lewis' recent remarks concerning Mr. Truman. And recall that A. Lincoln (R) is credited with freeing the slaves, certainly the most underpaid and underprivileged "laboring class" this country ever knew.

3—Gov. Kim Sigler is responsible for the muddy roads in Fairbanks township, you say. I say that neither Sigler, the Republicans nor the Democrats have anything to do with whether your roads are muddy or not this fall. If you and the other taxpayers want to pay more taxes for roads you'll get out of the mud next year.

4—You say you want better roads, mail routes, telephones, but it's the "same old story, no help, no money." I say there are lots of things that you can't blame on politics or the Hoover administration of 16 years ago. If that were so you would have to be disappointed because you didn't get what you wanted since the Democrats have been in the White House.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington.—Nowhere is the States' Rights party breaking up faster than in Gov. J. Strom Thurmond's own home state—South Carolina.

Not only are South Carolina's repentant Dixiecrats now scrambling back on the Truman bandwagon, but they are considering punitive action against their erstwhile leader.

The South Carolina legislature is actually cooking up a full-dress investigation into Thurmond's campaign. What the legislators want to probe is the charge that Thurmond traveled in a state-owned Cadillac, driven by a state highway patrolman, while campaigning for the presidency on the Dixiecrat ticket.

The legislature is curious about its expenditures for stationery, postage stamps and office help—the highest of any governor in the state's history. Some legislators suspect this was not all spent for state business, but partly for campaigning.

Also in line for a political spanking is South Carolina's Congressman Mendel Rivers. The Charleston congressman refused to run with the rest of the delegation on the Truman ticket, insisted on putting his name up with Thurmond, and campaigned actively for the Dixiecrats. Loyal Democrats will now try to classify him as a Dixiecrat, thus forcing him to lose his seniority on committees, and giving him about the same influence as the Labor party's lone Vito Marcantonio.

South Carolina also is moving to give its electoral vote to Truman instead of Thurmond. Originally the state Democratic committee voted to pledge its electoral ballots to home-son Thurmond, but is now planning to meet again and reverse itself.

Note—in spite of all the anti-civil rights oratory, South Carolina's two senators, Olin Johnston and Burnet Maybank, stayed loyal to Truman. As a result, both probably will be rewarded with a committee chairmanship—Johnston as head of civil service, and Maybank as acting chairman of banking and currency.

NEW FARM PROGRAM

Secretary of Agriculture Brannan's farm experts are already sharpening their pencils to rewrite some of the farm legislation passed by the 80th Congress.

And though farm policies haven't received as much publicity as the famed Taft-Hartley act, the new farm program is going to be just as important to about one-third the people of the United States. Here are some of the moves to be launched as soon as the new Congress reconvenes:

1. Cancellation of the 80th Congress ban against the government's additional grain-storage space. This ban was sneaked into the farm bill by ex-Congressman Roger Slaughter of Kansas City, whom Truman once purged. Because the government can't acquire storage space, it can't take up sufficient grain and wheat, and many farmers have to sell below parity.

2. President Truman will order ECA administrator Hoffman to stop buying grain for Europe through private companies. This chiefly benefits Argentina and foreign grain brokers, costs the U. S. more.

3. Secretary Brannan will press for ratification of the international wheat treaty, guaranteeing American farmers a stable foreign market. This was vetoed by the 80th Congress.

4. Brannan will urge both a permanent price-support program for farm products, plus controls through acreage limitation. If farmers start overproducing any single commodity, production could be cut by reducing price supports—were it not for the fact that this hurts little farmers, who can't compete with big farmers. For this reason, production controls have to be kept for stand-by use.

5. Because of the meat and milk shortage the agriculture department will encourage more production of beef cattle and dairy cows. This will be part of the new program to increase the variety of farm products, instead of a few basic farm products.

6. Soil conservation, crop insurance, rural hospitalization and rural housing will also be part of the new farm program.

NUREMBERG'S SOCIAL SEASON

Some interesting things have been taking place at Nuremberg, where high-placed German war criminals are supposed to be on trial for their lives, not enjoying the winter social season.

However, the wife of war-crimes Judge James Morris of Bismarck, N. D., has frequently invited Baroness von Schnitzler to the U. S. Army PX, despite the fact that the baroness's husband is in jail charged with committing ghastly war crimes. Chatting together gayly in public, the two women act as if they were bosom friends.

Another jurist, Judge Curtis G. Shake of Knox county, Indiana, conceived the brilliant idea of inviting several German defense attorneys to dinner at the Grand Hotel, where Germans generally are denied admittance.

Judge Shake presided at the trial of the I. G. Farben industrialists, who operated one of Hitler's chief war industries and who also conducted one of the most atrocious slave-labor camps.

It's significant that the I. G. Farben defendants got off with lenient sentences.

NEW WYOMING SENATOR

Gov. Lester Hunt of Wyoming, newly elected to the Senate, is the only governor in U. S. history who is a dentist. He began, however, as a baseball player. Born in Atlanta, Ill., Hunt became a star on the high school ball team at a time when some of the small towns of Wyoming were baseball crazy, and the town of Lander, Wyoming, enticed him from Illinois out to the West. He has been living there ever since.

In a state dominated by big cattle and sheep men who out-Republican the Republican party, Hunt, a Democrat, has been elected anyway.

When you are thinking in terms of the difference between peace and war—and the (Berlin) airlift is the difference between peace and war—any criticism of cost is not justified. The cost of the airlift for one entire year is about the cost of World War II for one day.—Air Secretary Symington

RUARK HAS IT FIGURED OUT

Truman Won Because He Got Most Votes

By ROBERT C. RUARK
New York—Mammy's little baby is the last of a breed. Mammy's little baby is a fat companion for the dodo and the aardvark. So far as I have been able to ascertain, I am the only guy alive who didn't know that Truman was a cinch to cop the marbles. Guess I'm just stupid.

I have been duly catechized by cab drivers and soda jerks and just plain jerks, also bartenders and wives and savants. They have one subject: Why Dewey lost, and why they knew it all the time.

To me it is miraculous, this recovery America made so suddenly. After the first shock—on that Wednesday it appears that every man was a cozy expert, just coming the dumb intellectuals along.

Cab Drivers Boast.
I figure that there cannot be any poor cab drivers in New York today, since all of them bet $100 at 60 to 1 on Harry's perky nose. There cannot be any poor politicians, since every man Jack I've met since the great upset tells me confidentially that he knew it all along. And let me tell you, no women voted for Thomas E. Dewey. I knew it was in the bag for Harry. Women are real smart, especially when they have a hunk of hindsight going for them.

Everybody knows why Truman won, too—and they knew it before he won. "Remember," they say, "how I kept telling you that little guy with the lip-hedge couldn't make it because people didn't like him? Remember? Remember how I said that Truman had such a hammerlock on labor it was a breeze? Remember what I said about the farmers? Remember the old axiom about you never get off a winner, you don't change horses in midstream, you don't vote against prosperity, you don't this and you don't that etcetera? Remember?"

Yeah, I sure do.
I remember the bull goose, Jim Farley, telling me how you went about rebuilding a shattered party. I remember all the smart politicians—the old pros, like Hague and Jake Arvey—crawling off the wagon and hoping anybody would pop up as a candidate, including Mortimer Snerd and Lil Abner. I remember a couple of Roosevelt running like turpentine toads for other candidates, and the 11th hour prayer that somebody, just anybody, would inject a dram of boxoffice juice into the race.

Columns Were Killed
Yessir, and I remember how the Republicans had already started to spend the money, and how you could spot a Democrat on the street, strictly by his handbag look. I remember how the Dixiecrats rubbed their hands and chortled, because while the torso of the party was cut and bleeding, they were going to rebuild a real, honest-to-Jeff Davis, solid-southern states-rights type-political organization out of the battered arms and legs.
I remember all the columns that got killed on that Wednesday, and how sick some tycoons looked, and how the pollsters all turned green and all the crowd that got swallowed, ran, with feathers. Also the phoney headline that the Chicago Tribune ran, saying as how the little man from Pawling was a winner.
But just me, folks. Not you or you or Uncle Hiram. You knew, all along, that Harry had it locked.

I read nothing now except learned treatises on why Thomas couldn't possibly make it in the mud, including statements from Mr. Dewey himself. He says enough people didn't vote for him, which is the kind of crystal-clear analysis I like to hear from the nation's leaders.

I wish to be honest. I thought our freshly hatched president had as much chance to get elected as Norman Thomas or Henry Wallace.

I thought the party was a dying dog, and that Dewey, like Flynn, was in. I thought only a moron would wager a bent kopek on the chances of Mr. Truman and his mates.

That's why I'm so lonesome these days. Everybody else was smart.

Repeated Attacks Of Indigestion May Be Cancer Warning

Tampa, Fla., (AP)—The slightest form of indigestion that occurs repeatedly may be a symptom of cancer of the stomach, a lecturer at the Southeastern States Cancer Seminar said here Wednesday.
"Every adult 45 years old and over is a candidate for cancer of the stomach," Dr. William F. Reinhold, Jr., continued. He is an associate professor of surgery at Johns Hopkins Medical school.
The only way it can be cured is removing the cancer by surgery, he said.

If victims attempt to treat themselves with home remedies or patent medicines, this disease "will spread in a short time too far to be treated successfully by any method," he warned.

Another speaker advised women to keep their weight down, not because excess weight causes cancer but because of the difficulty in detecting a cancerous growth in a mass of fat.

This was Dr. Bayard Carter of the Duke University Medical school. He said women were being educated to a more sensible approach to cancer, and the old hysterical attitude had almost disappeared.

Democrats to Load Up Key Committee Posts In Congress

Washington, D. C., (AP)—Democrats intend to load top Senate committees with eight of their members to five Republicans in an effort to push President Truman's program through the new Congress.

A Democratic official who asked not to be quoted by name told a reporter he feels his party should make its new 54 to 42 Senate advantage count at critical spots.

As he enumerated them, these may include top-heavy Democratic memberships on the 13-man labor, foreign relations, banking, finance, and judiciary committees.

The Republicans themselves laid the groundwork for such a move by taking eight to five control of the Senate labor committee in the present Congress.

That committee helped produce the Taft-Hartley act and wield it into final form.

NEA Staff Writer

Treat your Thanksgiving turkey like a prima donna—humor it, are for it, watch it carefully—then the performance will be perfect.

These are tested rules for perfection in roasting:

1. Rub cavity with Salt (1-2 teaspoon per pound of bird).
2. Put enough stuffing in neck to fill it out nicely and fasten neck skin to back with skewer.
3. Stuff cavity well, but do not pack tightly.
4. Truss bird and grease skin

Gifts For Royal
Baby To Be Given
To Other Mothers

By RUSSELL LANDSTROM

London, Nov. 12 (AP)—A world-record baby shower for Princess Elizabeth's first born may overflow into many humbler British homes.

The princess has let it be known she would like other babies arriving the same day as hers to share many hundreds of layettes given to her by loyal subjects and admirers the world over. The birth of Elizabeth's baby is expected some time this weekend.

In London alone it is estimated that at least 350 to 400 babies will be born this weekend, in hospitals, nursing or private homes. Elizabeth and her husband, Prince Philip, may share their baby presents with perhaps 100 or more of that number.

A similar course with wedding presents was followed by the princess when she married last November. Overwhelmed with gifts from all over the world she gave away some two dozen frocks and suits to other late November brides of her own age.

Months ago, even before Buckingham Palace confirmed reports that a Royal infant was expected, women of Britain and the Commonwealth lands started making nursery clothes and organizing Elizabeth needlework clubs.

The idea caught on, particularly in Australia and New Zealand, which the royal family expect to visit next year. Sydney has sent 900 baby garments, hand made and embroidered. Melbourne, Brisbane and other cities are contributing also.

Many Commonwealth inhabitants as well as homeland subjects have sent gifts individually.

Fine Hand Work

From donors close to home have come lamb's wool and kid leather baby shoes, fancy shawls and crib covers, embroidered silk and knitting wool.

An American firm is rumored to have offered daily diaper service by airmail, each diaper to bear the royal crest. Much as Elizabeth might appreciate that offer, it no doubt will be turned down. Clubs and organizations throughout Britain have sent messages pledging loyalty to the royal couple.

Elizabeth, who remains in excellent health and spirits, strolled in the spacious Buckingham Palace Gardens yesterday making

STREET LIGHTS ARE AUTOMATIC

Lynn, Mass.—Individual street lights may now be turned on and off automatically as dusk and dawn approach by means of a small photoelectric cell unit which is designed so that it may be plugged into the top of a properly adapted lamp. The device was revealed here by General Electric.

The use of photoelectric cells to turn lights on and off is not new and has been applied for some time with classroom lights in schools and also in other types of buildings. Another application is in the revolving beacon lights placed on aviation routes. This new application, with a specially designed equipment, should result in economy because the individual lamps are in operation only when it is dark enough to need them.

A gas-filled phototube, an electronic device sensitive to red light, is used as the brain of this automatic lamplighter. The type sensitive to red light was selected because the light of the setting sun in early evening is nearer the red end of the spectrum.

A little window in the housing over the photocell unit faces north and so is shielded from the direct rays of the sun. The phototube will operate when outdoor light intensity reaches a point at twilight when objects some 500 feet away become hazy to an observer.

Willow Ptarmigan May Be New Game Bird For Hunters Of Peninsula

Lansing, (AP)—If the dream of conservation commissioner Harold J. Richards of Caspian comes true, Upper Peninsula hunters may have another upland game bird to shoot at in future years.

Richards is spearheading a new effort to introduce Willow Ptarmigan into the Upper Peninsula.

He is going into northern Saskatchewan hunting caribou this fall, and has been authorized by the conservation commission to bring back up to 200 live-trapped ptarmigan. The Canadian government has also approved the export.

Richards said he planned to enlist the aid of native Indians in trapping the birds, but the commission authorized the sending of a game division worker to help if the need arises.

The commission has allocated $2,500 to pay for trapping the birds, shipping them to Michigan and expenses of the department.

Thomma in Training
At Great Lakes, Ill.

Great Lakes, Ill. — Malven L. Thomma, seaman recruit, USN, of Route 1, Gladstone, Mich., is in recruit training at the world's largest Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill.

Recruit training is the sharp break between civilian and naval life in which the new navy man learns the fundamental principles of the naval service. In the course of his training he is taught seamanship, navy customs, terms, basic ordnance, gunnery, signaling and navigation.

Upon completion of training the recruit is assigned either to the fleet or to a service school.

Stumps Blasted Out
With New Explosive

Washington — Pulling tree stumps to make pulpwood out of them is rarely economical because of the cost, but blasting them out with a new explosive provides a method that is not too expensive, the U. S. Department of Commerce indicates in a new publication issued today.

The explosive, known as Macite, is a TNT-coated ammonium nitrate mixture with a special catalyst making it sensitive enough for use with standard detonating caps. The use of this explosive is particularly recommended where cut-over land is being cleared for farming.

The report of the government agency, entitled Stump Removal Project, is based on work carried out by the University of Florida. It is available to those interested at a dollar a copy. It suggests cutting trees as close to the ground as possible because the entire trunk is good pulpwood while the stump itself is only of secondary value.

The American nickel is usually 75 per cent copper and 25 per cent nickel.

'Twas LIKE THIS IN OLD DAYS — Tuesday evening the Centennial of the Augustana church was observed in the First Lutheran church with a program, pageant style, portraying the development of the church. One of the scenes included an early-day Ladies' Aid meeting. Portraying the scene, are four longtime members of the Ladies' Aid: namely Mrs. Nels Olson, Mrs. Erick Gabrielson, Mrs. Judith Bjorklund and Mrs. Selma Jacobson.

Students May Get
Excused Absence
For Days Hunting

Students of Gladstone high school who wish to go hunting for the opening day of season will be allowed to do so and obtain an excuse absence, it is learned from Supt. Wallace Cameron.

However, there is a condition attached. In each instance the license must be registered at school so that school authorities know the student is not just taking a one-day vacation. Students under 17 years must also bring a written request from parents or guardian.

An excused absence allows the student to make up the work missed.

COMING HOMERites Thursday Morning
For Merence Michaels

Staff Sergeant Merence J. Michaels, a Manistique boy who lost his life in Cervell, France, while serving with the American forces during World War II, will be buried here with military honors next Thursday morning.

The young soldier's remains are due to arrive here from Chicago on Wednesday morning and will be met by an honorary guard of former comrades. The casket will be taken to the Morton Funeral Home where it will remain until the next morning before church services begin.

Merence, the son of Mr. and Mrs. August Michaels, of Deer street, was born in Nahma on Jan. 29, 1917 and lived in that community practically all his life. He entered the armed service at Escanaba in the spring of 1943 and in January, 1944 was sent overseas, where he was enrolled in the Thirty-fifth Division of the Infantry. Before his death he had been awarded a Bronze Star medal and a medal of the Order of Purple Heart.

Surviving him are his parents, and three sisters, Mrs. Charles Hamill, and the Misses Bernice and Ruth Michaels, all of Manistique.

Funeral services will be conducted Thursday morning at 9:00 o'clock at the St. Francis de Sales Catholic church. The Rev. Fr. B. J. P. Schevers will conduct the funeral mass. Rites at Fairview cemetery will be conducted by a joint committee of veteran organizations.

Moundsville Plans
School at Prison

Moundsville, W. Va., (AP)—Inmates of the West Virginia State Penitentiary are going to go to school. Warden Orel J. Skeen says the schooling—although within the prison walls—will give many of them educational benefits and vocational training they would not be able to obtain outside.

So far 25 volunteers from among the prisoners have been given general aptitude tests by the state employment service, and they will serve as instructors. All have special vocational qualifications of one kind or another. Michael Doudja of Weirton, W. Va., newly-appointed director of the program, says classes will not actually start until all prisoners have been given the Stanford Achievement Test to determine their grade levels.

The curriculum will include everything from elementary reading on up to high school subjects and vocational training. In addition to penitentiary classrooms, the services of correspondence schools will be available. If things work out the way prison officials hope, the plan may even include high school diplomas approved by the state education department.

Warden Skeen is not hoping for miracles over night. But he says it costs the taxpayer $400 a year to keep a prisoner behind bars, and since his family may be drawing relief somewhere a total of $200 might be closer to the truth. So even "if we salvage as few as 30 a year," says Skeen, "we've saved the taxpayers $24,000."

Smiles Win Prizes
At Harrisburg, Pa.

Harrisburg, Pa. (AP)—The old-fashioned smile had its day Wednesday in Pennsylvania's capital city.

The occasion was the local optimist club's annual smile day with silver dollars going to the city's 1,000 best exhibitors of the toothy grin.

Twenty club members began patrolling the streets this morning, handing out the silver cartwheels to smiling Harrisburgers. With each dollar award went a certificate bearing this inscription: "Congratulations! You have been selected by the Optimist Club of Harrisburg as one of Harrisburg's most cheerful smileers."

Last year the club was able to find only 750 worthy smileers.

Sportsmen's Club
Range Rebuilt And Ready For Use

Members of the Schoolcraft County Sportsmen's club are taking much satisfaction in their newly re-constructed rifle range. The old range, which had gone to serious neglect, was practically useless, but the improvement is now regarded as one of the best of its kind in the state.

The entire range has been gone over with a bulldozer, all impediment brush and interfering limbs of trees have been cut away and markers at 25, 100, 150, 200 and 300 yards have been set up and a dependable backdrop precludes all danger of havoc from stray bullets.

Hunters, including those from down state, are invited to use the facilities of this range when setting sights on their rifles.

The request is made, however, that people using rifles refrain from using the pistol range as long range shooting is dangerous in this direction.

Deflated Tire
On Inland Bus
Causes Blaze

The city fire department responded to two general calls Wednesday night and early Thursday morning.

The first call came to the Charles Peterson apartment above the Elite Dress Shop on South Cedar street. A day bed had caught fire, presumably from a cigarette. The damage was confined to the bedding although the apartments in the building were filled with dense clouds of smoke.

The second call came about one o'clock in the evening. Because the call came from the Dairy Bar on Deer street, it was thought that the blaze was there, but it proved to be the rear tires on an Inland Lime & Stone Company bus. The bus had just returned from Port Inland and on the way one of the tires had gone flat. Then friction

Preparedness Is Subject Of Talk
By Colonel Kelly

Preparedness is the only means by which future wars may be averted, Col. John Kelly told students of Manistique High school at an Armistice day program at the school auditorium Thursday afternoon.

"It was thirty years ago today that the distressed American people went wild over the news that World War I was over. There would be no more wars, we assured ourselves," he said. But we know differently now, he added.

America did everything it could to make another war impossible. It destroyed battle ships, it scrapped its armaments, it disbanded its armed forces, but the rest of the world laughed at us, he said. Hitler, Mussolini and Hirohito strengthened their military machines and precipitated war at the earliest possible moment.

We were successful in the last two wars largely because we had time to prepare to do our part, but next time we will not be so fortunate. The enemy will strike us with full force. If we are fully prepared to meet the enemy, war threats will not materialize, he said.

Another thought brought out by Col. Kelly was the tendency of people to forget. Three years ago, the returned soldier was a hero. Today he constitutes "Our Veterans problem." He deplored the fact that now, when the remains of veterans who died for their country are brought back for burial, few people are interested enough to attend the services or set out flags. We should not be so quick to forget, he said.

A significant Armistice day touch was given the program by Marvin Frederickson who played a number of War I tunes on the accordion. Several songs of the two wars were also sung by the audience, led by J. Earl Cousineau and accompanied at the piano by Miss June Christensen. Carl Olson, principal, presided at the meeting.

FLINT SHORT ON WATER

Menominee, Mich., Nov. 12 (P)—Two Columbus, O., boys drove 589 miles to see a football game yesterday but missed their goal by about 200 miles.

The unidentified pair asked waitress Jean Kapitiz when the game started.

When she replied she didn't know of any football game they told her they had driven up to see Stout Institute play Michigan Tech.

The pair had miscalculated. The game was played at Stout Institute in Menominee, Wis., about 200 miles from here.

Tech Still Unbeaten

Menominee, Wis., Nov. 12 (P)—Michigan Tech of Houghton, Mich., remained among the ranks of unbeaten teams as it closed its season here last night with a 13-7 win over Stout Institute.

Some College Gridders Take 'Cut' When They Turn Pro, Prexy Says

Atlanta, Nov. 12 (P)—College football has gone professional to the point that when "some of the big stars turn to professional football they have to take a cut in salary."

That's the opinion of Dr. John L. Plyler, president of Furman University at Greenville, S. C.

And the little colleges with limited athletic funds can't hope to keep pace with the big schools who have ways and means of attracting top grid talent, the educator said at an alumni meeting here last night.

"The day when you could get a good football player for his tuition and college expenses is long gone," Dr. Plyler continued.

He estimated the cost of an "average, good" football team these days at $100,000 a year. "Big Time" teams run from $250,000 to $600,000 annually, he said.

"We just don't have that kind of money to throw around at Furman," he added.

Wildcats' 'Asch' Expects Big Day Against The Irish

Evanston, Ill., Nov. 12 (P)—Halfback Frank Aschenbrenner of Northwestern, who scored two touchdowns for Great Lakes when the Sailors handed Notre Dame its last defeat—in 1945—is going to South Bend tomorrow and hopes he can help the Wildcats upset the Irish.

The Wildcats' hard hitting left halfback was a thorn in Notre Dame's side in the 39 to 7 rout of the Irish by Great Lakes three years ago. Now, the Milwaukee senior, who is rounding out six years of collegiate and service football, is to oppose Notre Dame for the fourth straight year.

Northwestern will throw more backfield speed against the Ramblers than they've seen all season. Northwestern's backfield includes Aschenbrenner, Art Murakowski, John Miller, Don Euron and Ed Tunnelcliff. One of the speediest is "Asch," who hopes to round out his collegiate football career with victories over the Irish tomorrow and Illinois next week.

Since the Great Lakes rout, Aschenbrenner hasn't played on a winner against Notre Dame. In 1946 Northwestern was defeated 27 to 0 and the Wildcats bowed again last year 26 to 19.

Aschenbrenner's teammate, fullback Murakowski, was a member of the 1943 Great Lakes eleven which upset the then unbeaten Irish, 19 to 18 in the final seconds.

Fighting Enlivens Two NHL Battles; Legalized Mayhem

By Ralph Roden

Associated Press Sports Writer

Montreal fans are very happy today that goal tender Bill Durnan of the Canadiens didn't go through with his threat to quit hockey.

Durnan, who won the coveted Vezina trophy four years straight had, what was for him, a poor season in the nets last year. When the fans rode him hard, the 33-year old netminder threatened to call it a career.

However, Durnan is back and paying in the style that made him the best goalie in the game for four consecutive years beginning with the 1943-44 season, his first in the loop.

Durnan came within an eyelash of hanging up his fourth shutout of the season last night as the Canadiens beat the Chicago Blackhawks 4-1, in a brawling game at Montreal.

The husky netminder blanked the Hawks until late in the third period when Adam Brown rifled in Chicago's lone goal while the Canadiens were short-handed. The victory enabled Montreal to remain in a second place tie with the Boston Bruins, two points back of the pace-setting Detroit Red Wings. The Bruins clipped the Wings, 4-1, in a rough game at Boston. The Boston affair was a play off of Wednesday's scheduled game which was postponed because of fog.

Chicago and Montreal players belted each other around with reckless abandon in the first two periods and they climaxed the rough play in the last session with a free for all that held up the game for at least ten minutes.

Fighting also enlivened the Red Wing-Bruin encounter. The extra-curricular activities began in the first period with Detroit's Gordie Howe and Max McNab battling with the Bruins' Moe Henderson and Pat Egan respectively. The rough stuff ended in the final frame when Boston's Fernie Flaman slugged it out with George Gee. All told, 16 penalties, including five majors were handed out.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

All Is Not Gold That Glitters In Minor Loops Too Much Reckless Spending

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

New York, Nov. 12 (P)—The fact that Dan Topping has hung a "for sale" sign on the Newark Bears emphasizes that everything isn't rosy in minor league baseball despite a record attendance of nearly 43,000,000 for 88 leagues during the past season.

The late Judge W. G. Bramham issued a stern warning to club owners some years ago that they'd better cut out the reckless spending. . . . Maybe the Bears haven't been too reckless, considering present-day baseball salaries, but they haven't made money or produced enough major league ball players to justify the expense. . . . And when you get down to class "C" or "D" the problem is even more acute.

The farm operators are beginning to drop out and the independents can't come back when it costs around $50,000 a season to operate a class "D" club and they can't raise ticket prices above the 50-75 cent level because that would just send the customers to the movies.

Around the Block

When Florida's Charley Hunsinger ran 64 yards on a punt return to score against Georgia the boys in the press box began asking Joe Sherman, Florida publicist, who threw the key blocks. . . . Joe, who isn't used to seeing such things, answered frankly: "I wasn't looking to see who was blocking. I was only making sure they were blocking."

Sports Before Your Eyes

The week's big question is: Who is Mike O'Dowd? The guy is supposed to fight Billy Conn in Macon, Ga., but nobody, including the Macon promoters or Conn's eastern representative, can supply any information about Mike. . . . Babe Didrikson Zaharias, who took a couple of likings at golf this summer, has given up such things as sportsmen's shows and skiing to concentrate on her golf game. . . . Chances are she'll appear in a few exhibitions with Sammy Sneed and Byron Nelson during the winter. . . . Yale's Herman Hickman and Princeton's Charley Caldwell, rival coaches in the Big Three title game Saturday, were born only 25 miles apart in Johnson City and Bristol, Tenn., respectively.

End of the Line

Georgia Tech has landed one of the South's prep football prizes, Halfback Billy Joe Ehrhart, who scored 386 points in four years at Nashville, Tenn. . . . American Legion junior baseball helped to develop 243 of last season's major league players, including 17 of the world champion Indians and 18 of the Braves. . . . Fifteen carloads of horses arrived at Hialeah the first day the track was open to receive them. . . . First basketball publication of the season is "Clair Bee's Basketball Annual"—no scores, but plenty of interesting short articles. . . . After the Oklahoma football team scored four touchdowns against the wild to lead Missouri 35-7, an excited radio announcer exclaimed: "And now the Sooners have the wind". . . . Of course, they won in a breeze.

"It Seems To Me"

BY IIM WARD

The way the Green Bay Packers, Marquette Hilltoppers and Wisconsin Badgers are performing this season, Milwaukee and all Wisconsin sports fans have the welcome sign out for basketball. Anything would be an improvement. In fact, this is one season when they don't mind basketball overlapping football a little bit.

At any rate, the National Basketball league schedule is well underway, and Wisconsin sports fans are watching closely the Sheboygan Redskins and Oshkosh All-Stars. Fans in the Escanaba area have an eye out for the Redskins, also, after watching such stars as Ken Suezens, Nobel Jorgenson, Mike Todorovich, Bobby Cook, Bob Brannum et al in action here a couple of weeks ago.

Strictly off the cuff: Gene Berce, former Marquette university basketball star, whose father is a C & N W mail clerk who makes the Escanaba run regularly, has been selected to play with the College All-Stars against the championship professional Minneapolis Lakers in the Chicago Stadium Nov. 26. . . . Berce is a member of the Oshkosh All-Stars in the NBL.

Bob Bergeron, of Iron Mountain, is winding up his football career at St. Norbert college this season. . . . His fellow townsman, Paul Goodreau, a place kicker, has scored 12 points for St. Norbert's this season. . . . Two wrestlers at Michigan State college are well named. . . . None other than the Bender brothers, George and Orris, of Lakewood, Ohio. . . . MSC is introducing ice hockey to its winter program of intercollegiate competition. . . . A huge new indoor ice rink is nearing completion.

Dear A Reader Of Your Paper From Trenary: I'm glad to hear that you liked the column in last Saturday's issue entitled "Fight Stuff" and we'll see that you get more of same. . . . We realize Joe Louis isn't the only fighter on the horizon, but he makes a pretty big shadow. . . . Glad to hear from you. . . . Write us again, but next time let us know who you are. . . . For all we know, you might be Kilroy—or even Joe Wolford.

Credit Mario Fontana with getting off the best crack at the Upper Peninsula air mail meeting in Iron Mountain Wednesday. . . . Very seriously, almost dramatically, he read a "radio flash" at the end of his brief talk, to wit:

"I've been authorized to make this announcement, a radio flash I've just received. The deer season has been postponed two weeks (Slight pause while nimrods' hearts sunk) to give the Republicans time to get out of the woods."

F. A. Flodin, of Iron Mountain, the man chiefly responsible for procuring a $6,000,000 Veterans' hospital for Iron Mountain, got in an election gag also by introducing himself as a fellow who used to be a Republican. Flodin will be the Upper Peninsula's emissary to Washington, D. C., to see about expediting air mail service to Upper Michigan.

If any of you have seen Joe Wolford, tell him he might as well come in out of the woods now. Tracking snow is falling, and it's getting cold out there.

VFW Five Opens NWM Big By Beating Falls

Crystal Falls, Nov. 12 (Special to the Escanaba Daily Press)—The Escanaba VFW opened its bid for the Northern Wisconsin Michigan Basketball league championship with a sparkling 62-42 triumph over Crystal Falls here last night.

The game was originally announced as an exhibition contest, but it goes in the books as a league engagement.

Manistique City Basketball Loop Meeting Tuesday

Manistique, Nov. 12—The recreation sponsored city basketball league will hold its organization meeting at the city hall Tuesday evening.

Team sponsors and managers or other representatives are urged to be present. Officers, entry fees, game nights, and rules will be discussed at the meeting. Present plans call for one week of practice rounds and a full schedule beginning immediately following the Thanksgiving holidays. Inter-league games will be played off at the rate of two evenings a week through December and January. Teams will compete in the several Gold Medal tournaments in February.

Another topic of interest at this meeting will be the reorganization of the Manistique Merchants. Last year the Merchants free-lanced in their scheduled games and were successful in winning 16 while losing only two. Missing from the lineup will be such stars from last year's strong squad as Danke and Courmay, and Noe, all of whom have left town for the winter.

The VFWs, who replace the championship Delta Hardware aggregation as Escanaba's entry in the NWM, displayed an efficient passing attack and came through with an avalanche of baskets in the third period that snowed the Falls.

Marie, Ironwood, Norway, Kingsford, Iron Mountain, Marinette and Gladstone.

Coast-To-Coast Television Of Boxing Likely

New York, Nov. 12 (P)—Coast-to-Coast television of boxing will prove a boon to promoters, boxers and fight fans, say the men who're going to try it next year, Larry Atkins.

Atkins, a Cleveland promoter, is president of the newly-organized Sports Television, Inc.

"We have five big time promoters lined up," Atkins said today.

"We will represent both the promoters and the sponsors through the television people. Ray Arcel and I now are in the process of signing a five-year exclusive contract with Columbia Broadcasting System.

"Under our setup a promoter will be able to outbid Madison Square Garden for a bout, even if he cannot hope to approach the Garden's net gate. He will have the extra money from television."

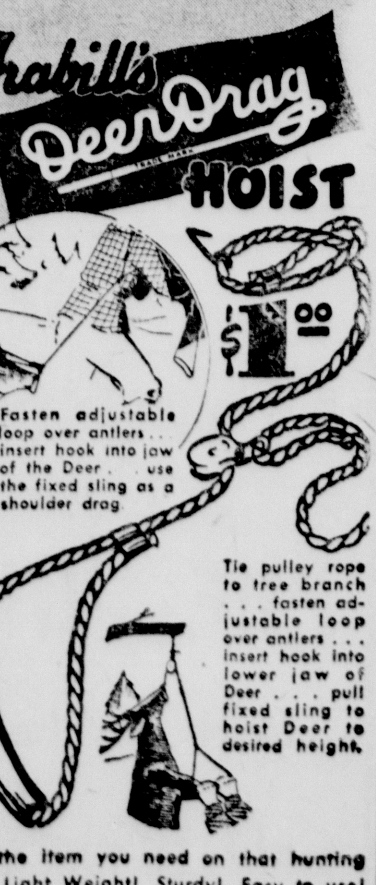

"Here's how it will work. Say a promoter in Pittsburgh or Cleveland has a chance to get the Willie Pep-Sandy Saddler return bout. They have agreed to a 30-30 split in the return. If they put it in the Garden, the best the fighters can get out of a sellout would be about $21,000.

"Suppose your promoter in Pittsburgh or Cleveland can guarantee each $25,000, or $50,000 for both. Which way will the fighters jump? Say he takes in only $60,000. His rent and other expenses are $15,000. Ordinarily he would lose $5,000 on the show. But if we can get him that and more, too, for television, he can go after the top matches and still make money."

The University of Mississippi helped introduce football to Memphis, playing the Memphis Athletic Club on Nov. 18, 1893.

Michigan-Irish Feud May Hinge On Wildcat Tilt

By Gayle Talbot

New York, Nov. 12 (P)—The argument that has raged for two seasons over the relative merits of Michigan and Notre Dame will receive added fuel tomorrow when the all-conquering Irish smash against the once-beaten Northwestern Wildcats at South Bend in the week's big game.

Perhaps the nation's football experts will be able to make up their minds after this one. At the moment, Michigan holds the No. 1 spot in the Associated Press poll by a narrow margin. A week ago it was Notre Dame, and the week before that Michigan. It's a confused circle.

Northwestern, gunning earnestly for the Rose Bowl assignment from the Big Nine, dropped its only decision to Michigan a month ago by 28 to 0. If the Irish hope to displace the Wolverines as the people's choice before the waning season ends, they will have to lambast the Wildcats by at least an equally impressive margin.

THIS WEEK'S PICKIN'S

New York, Nov. 12 (P)—Sliding down from the top of the peak with another hatful of forecasts.

Last week's 62 correct picks in 75 chances meant an average of .827. That brought the season's total to 451 correct and 101 incorrect for an average of .818.

This weekend's forecasts:

Northwestern at Notre Dame: A year ago the Northwestern sophomores were the only team to score more than once on the Irish. They punched over three touchdowns. They likely will do it again this time.

Cloverland, Legion Quintet to Battle In Gladstone Mon.

Gladstone, Nov. 11—A booster cage game between the Legion quintet and Cloverland college of Escanaba has been arranged for the evening of Monday, Nov. 22, it is announced by Norman Peterson, coach of the Legion five. The same evening the Lions, another local team, will clash with Kingsford. This game will start at 7 o'clock, the other at 8:30.

Advance sale of tickets is being conducted and the duets will be placed in a number of downtown stores to facilitate the sale.

Funds derived will be used for the purchase of additional new equipment and to provide transportation for out of town games to follow.

Both teams practiced last evening and this afternoon the Legion is scrimmaging against the high school.

Warren Fisher has been lost to the squad and his place is being taken by Doug Madden, one of the stars of last year's varsity.

Games are wanted by the Legion five, home and home arrangements, and managers of teams desiring to schedule the Legion may write Norman Peterson, Gladstone, Mich.

There are 110 rookies among 280 players carried on the rosters of the eight teams in the All-American Football Conference time but Notre Dame will get four, at least, Notre Dame.

Army at Penn: The Quakers have been minus a consistent attack all season. There's nothing in the records to indicate that they have found it now. This game pits two of the country's best centers, Chuck Bednarik of Penn and Army's Bill Yeoman, against each other. Army.

Indiana at Michigan: Wolverine reserves have practiced all week. Even they should be able to handle the Hoosiers. Michigan.

California at Washington State: Coach Lynn Waldorf of the unbeaten Californians expects either Fullback Jackie Jensen or Halfback Jack Swanner to have a good day. If both do, 'Twill be murder. California.

Southern Methodist at Arkansas: Doak Walker gives the Mustangs the edge even if Clyde Scott plays for Arkansas. Southern Methodist.

North Carolina vs. Maryland: Statistics say this game in the capital city should be the defensive gem of the day. But North Carolina will score and score North Carolina.

Princeton at Yale: There have been hints that Yale will be at full strength for the first time this season. Maybe so. But Princeton isn't exactly crumpled with Weber, Leibert and Sella all operating. Princeton.

Alabama at Georgia Tech: The loss to Tennessee last week has awakened the Engineers. Georgia Tech.

Dartmouth at Cornell: Each defeated Columbia by a touchdown in earlier games. The two appear as evenly matched as they were in 1940 when Dartmouth won, 9 to 0. Dean's punting and the home field give the big Red and edge Cornell.

Baylor at Tulane: Eddie Price, Tulane fullback, should riddle the Baylor line. Tulane.

Temple at Penn State: That victory over Penn convinced everyone that the Nittany Lions do have sharp teeth. Penn State, Mississippi lack its early season zest. Tennessee seems to grow stronger week by week. Tennessee.

Clemson vs. Wake Forest: Another game on a neutral field, this one at Winston-Salem. Bobby Gage to be the difference. Clemson.

Nebraska at Oklahoma: Buddy Burrus is labelled the best lineman in the area. He plays for the Sooners. Oklahoma.

Skipping over the Midwest in a hurry:

Midwest: Illinois over Ohio State, Minnesota over Iowa, Cincinnati over Western Reserve, Drake over New Mexico, Kansas over Kansas State, Michigan State over Iowa State, Missouri over Colorado, Miami (Ohio) over Wichita, Lafayette over Ohio Wesleyan, Purdue over Pittsburgh, South Carolina over Tulsa, Wisconsin over Marquette, Bradley over South Dakota, Bowling Green over Morrisville, Dayton over Oklahoma City, Western Michigan over Washington (Mo), Denison over Case.

Bark River-Harris Students Prepare School Annual

UNDER THE PENCIL—Janet Good, freshman reporter, at left, and Lorraine Nault, senior reporter, hand in copy for the Bark River-Harris school annual, to Elaine Borden, editor in chief of the "The Echo." A staff of 24 senior high school students are preparing the school annual, under direction of Miss Marion Flynn. This is the first year these students have published a yearbook. They were consolidated into a rural agricultural school with Leo Brunelle as superintendent.

ART WORK—Art work for the Bark River-Harris yearbook gets underway early with Robert Bell, advertising manager, at left, Wesley Chernick, center, also an ad man and Thomas Polishak, production manager, handling the india ink, scissors and rules. All departments of the Echo staff have been at work for sometime, writing of school activities and picturing the year's events.

FULL HIGHWAY USE IS URGED

Public Interest Should Come First

Chicago, (SS)—The public is not getting the full use of the highways to which it is entitled, the American Petroleum Institute was told here by John S. Worley of the University of Michigan. Public interest must come first in the study of any highway problems which may arise.

We are faced with a number of these problems, he said, among them taxation, trade barriers, an adequate highway plant, uniform traffic code, safety, a fuller use of our highway plant and long-range highway planning. Taxation he characterized as probably our most confusing activity, administered with the least intelligence of all our highway transportation activities.

Fuller use of the highways and streets, in which more than $38,000,000,000 has been invested, includes their use to full capacity. The capacity of a highway is found in the elements of space for and strength for carrying the loads.

The reasonable capacity of a modern rural road, in terms of passenger cars, is about 450 cars per lane per hour when the average speed is 42 miles an hour. Trucks and trailers reduce this amount. Congestion begins where the number of cars increases or the average speed is less. But few rural roads are used to the saturation point.

In urban areas, it is the street intersection rather than lack of lane space which governs the number of vehicles moving along a street. A great deal of the congestion we think we encounter in cities is psychological. If measured in time lost, it would be found to be only a few minutes per 24 hours.

Heavier loads would make possible fewer trucks on the highway, as well as a lower charge for services, all of which is in the public interest, he declared. Legal loads permitted in adjoining states upon the same road built under Federal specifications show the public does not get the full use of its highways. On U. S. Highway 29, as an example, the allowable gross load in Michigan is 120,000 pounds; in Ohio, 77,500 pounds; and in Kentucky, only 50,000 pounds.

"THE ECHO" STAFF—Twenty-four students of the Bark River-Harris high school are preparing the annual yearbook for the school. Miss Marion Flynn is in charge of the publication; Miss Elaine Borden is editor-in-chief. Standing left to right are Allen Schoen, Janet Lord, Delores Desjardins, Marie Guenette, Barbara Chernick, Shirley Billings, Lorraine Strahl, Miss Flynn,

Boarding House Gives Big Meal For Two Bits

By ELDON ROARK

Tupelo, Miss. (NEA)—At Mrs. May Dickerson's boarding house in Tupelo you can get breakfast, dinner or supper—all you can eat—for 25 cents, including meat.

The two-bit price isn't a 10-day special. That's been Aunt May's price for 40 years, and probably will be as long as the "rooms and board" sign stays outside her big frame house two blocks from the business district.

There isn't any doorbell. You just open the door and walk into an entrance hall. In the front of it are a few chairs and an old sofa. In the rear are two dining tables—one that seats eight, the other seven. And they just about fill that end of the hall. The kitchen is the adjoining room to the right.

We just walked on into the kitchen. Aunt May, a rather stout woman with a lot of iron-gray hair on top of her head, was standing at the stove in a cloud of steam, stirring something in a big white pot.

We asked if it would be all right if we'd come back to dinner. She said certainly. She's open to everybody, transients as well as her regulars. But those who pop in have to wait till they can be seated. The regulars, the working people, have to eat and get back to their jobs.

Sign outside Aunt May's boarding house in Tupelo, Miss., is as modest as the price Mrs. Dickerson charges for meals.

At 11:45 we returned. Twenty minutes later her regular boarders came rushing up from all directions—clerks and shopkeepers, skilled workmen, girls and women from a nearby dress-manufacturing plant, truck drivers.

We waited for "second table," and were a bit apprehensive. All those eating at the first table looked well fed. There might not be much left for us. The food was put on the tables in big platters and each person helped himself.

When our turn came, though, we found our fears were unfounded. Aunt May and Mrs. Carolyn Jones, a neighbor who helps serve, took the almost empty platters to the kitchen and came back with steaming refills.

And here's what we had:

Pot roast and dressing, pinto beans, candied yams, Irish potatoes, lettuce, turnips, congealed fruit salad, spaghetti, pickles, coffee or iced tea, cornbread and white bread, rice pudding.

It was good old-fashioned country cooking, too, and we ate all we could hold. And still Aunt May and Mrs. Jones kept shoving those platters toward us.

All for two bits.

How does Aunt May do it? She shrugged. "I just manage, that's all. I hire some help, but I do a lot of the work myself. I have a little garden and I buy everything except meat in wholesale quantities."

And then she laughed. "Besides, I'm not trying to get rich. I haven't anybody but myself (she is a widow without children), and I don't need a lot of money. As long as I make about $100 a month for my work, I'm satisfied."

The United States Navy cost the government only $4,000,000 a year a little more than a century ago.

Court Decrees Gallows For 7 Jap War Makers

No date for the carrying out of the sentences was set.

A close guard was placed on all of the Japanese for fear some might try to take their own lives.

Spared By Plasma

Sentenced to hang were: Former Premier Tojo, known as the razor during the war. The balding little man tried to commit suicide after the war. American blood plasma saved his life.

Gen. Kenji Doihara, 64, the Japanese undercover expert in China and Manchuria. He was nicknamed "The Bird of Evil Omen" by the Chinese and helped to seat Henry Pu-Yi on the puppet throne of Manchuria.

Former Premier Koki Hirota, a career man who was present at the pre-Pearl Harbor conference of former premiers when war plans were laid.

Gen. Seishiro Itagaki, former war minister and ranking Kwangtung army officer at Mukden in the 1931 incident that started the Asiatic war.

Gen. Heitaro Kimura, vice minister of war throughout Tojo's premiership.

Gen. Iwane Matsui, who commanded Japanese troops in the rape of Nanking.

Lt. Gen. Akira Muto, army chief of staff in the Philippines.

Pickets Still Walk At Harper Hospital

Detroit, Nov. 12. (AP)—A number of pickets from outside unions continued to march in front of Harper hospital today as doctors reported service was back to normal.

An increased number of police were assigned to the scene with orders to enforce a little-used ordinance banning "unnecessary noise within 250 feet of a hospital."

Four strikers were arrested late Thursday on charges of assaulting home-going workers.

There was no indication of progress toward settlement of the five-day-old dispute. Members of the AFL Hospital Employees Union are seeking recognition, but hospital authorities have refused it.

AIR COVERING

All ground and water surfaces of the earth are covered by a layer of turbulent air varying in thickness from a few yards to a thousand miles or more.

Williams Pledges Cooperation With GOP In Michigan

Detroit, Nov. 12. (AP)—Michigan Republicans had a promise of "cooperation" today from Democratic Gov.-elect G. Mennen Williams.

Said the young governor-elect to a Wayne county Democratic group:

"Our key word and intention will be 'cooperation.' There will be no 'springing' of strange proposals on either you people or the Republicans while I am governor."

Williams, who takes office Jan. 1, appeared before the group yesterday for his first public discussion of legislative and appointment plans since his election Nov. 2.

He said he intended to give both Republican and Democratic legislators a chance to talk over his proposals before he drafts his message to the legislature.

When he takes over the governor's chair, Williams will be dealing with a Republican-controlled legislature.

His election victory over Governor Sigler was accompanied by Democratic gains in the legislature but not sufficient to overcome the strong GOP majority.

With his election campaign to judge from, Williams' legislative program will include housing, unemployment compensation and workmen's compensation legislation, expanded school programs, civil rights, a highway program, farm benefits, and increased old age provisions.

He also said he would seek a coordination of state agencies and the re-establishment of an office of veterans affairs.

Williams made his preliminary comments on his legislative program to a group of Wayne county legislators. In Wayne county the Democrats swept 21 posts in the election of legislators.

The 37-year-old governor-elect disclosed incidentally that he and his family—wife Nancy and three children—would start moving to Lansing Dec. 2.

On that date the moving vans will pick up his furniture from his Grosse Pointe farms home and take it to the house he has leased in Lansing for the next two years.

A new source of tannin is urgently needed now since blight killed the chestnut trees, which provided much of the nation's tannin supply. The United States has been forced to import about two-thirds of its annual requirements of tannin.

Large amounts of fir bark accumulate each year at lumber and pulp mills in the Pacific Northwest. There is enough tannin in this bark to make it profitable to extract the tannin, the Oregon scientists said.

Amount of tannin in bark varies with the age of the tree and the height at which the bark grows. Tannin content of bark from the bottom of trees 110 to 250 years old was 7.6 per cent, while bark from the tops of trees 50 to 80 years old was 18.3 per cent tannin, studies revealed.

Douglas fir bark is also a potential source of cork and waxes, the chemists reported.

Jack Benny Gets Millions To Stay On NBC Network

Hollywood, Nov. 12. (AP)—The battle of the networks reached the war of nerves stage today as NBC tried to work out a several million dollar deal to keep Jack Benny in its stable.

CBS gave up on the Benny front, and went after Edgar Bergen. NBC is reported to have $4,000,000 or close to it ready for the NBC network.

NBC is countering efforts of CBS to raid its star list. The method: Capital gains deals such as the one that switched Amos 'n' Andy to CBS.

"How is the Benny deal going to set with Hope, Cantor, Durante and other NBC stars who will want the same treatment?" A CBS man remarked to the Reporter's Joe Murcott. He hinted that dissatisfied stars might turn to the younger network, joining successful shows such as Suspense, Arthur Godfrey, My Friend Irma and Crime Photographer, recently developed by CBS' programming division.

Rheumatic Heart Operations Made

Los Angeles — Operations in which a piece is cut off the top of the heart and others in which the aorta, main artery leading from the heart, is wrapped in plastic to prevent its bursting, were reported at the meeting here of the American College of Surgeons.

The heart topping operation is designed for patients with rheumatic disease who are in danger of having a clot plug an artery of arm or leg. In 90 per cent of such cases the clots come from one of the upper chambers of the heart, particularly from the muscular pouches at the top of these chambers called auricular appendages. Two cases in which this operation was performed on the left side of the heart were reported by Dr. John L. Hadden of Long Island College of Medicine and Kings County Hospital, Brooklyn. One of the patients survived, the other died.

WOMEN NOT VOTING

Detroit 12.—Fewer women voted here last week than in the presidential election of 1944, according to Oakley E. Distin, director of election in Detroit. Last week 43.9 per cent of Detroit's voters were women while in 1944 a total of 44.3 per cent of the ballots were cast by women.

INVALID SAVED TWICE

Adrian, (AP)—Mrs. Marie Remington, 86-year-old invalid, was rescued from her burning house twice Thursday. A passer-by helped the aged woman from the house the first time. An hour later, firemen were called when the fire broke out again and the fire fighters helped Mrs. Remington to safety once more.

Girls Play Touch Football; Tackle News Photographer

Berkeley, Calif., Nov. 12. (AP)—Two University of California sororities sent teams to a meadow playing field yesterday for what was intended to be a very private game of touch football and it ended up in a brawl.

For this brief account you are indebted to Seymour Snaer, a San Francisco Examiner photographer.

Kappa Kappa Gamma and Kappa Alpha Theta teams lined up on the Tilden Park grid; the ball was snapped; and the play ended with a resounding slap. The teams had agreed that only an audible whistle on the sidelines could be ruled a successful "tackle". (In ordinary touch football, a ball carrier must stop when touched—anywhere.)

From the sidelines came roars of applause—from a hundred male students who had not been invited.

In the second quarter, with the game still scoreless, Snaer showed up, camera in hand. Shrilled a player: "Photographer!" up rushed the male fans; down went Snaer, and off went the back of his camera.

Then everybody scampered; the game was over. Later everybody apologized to everybody. All except Dean of Women Mary B. Davidson.

Said she: "The students should be allowed to play games without newspaper interference."

Can't Keep Big Red Down Now!

Salem, N. H., Nov. 12. (AP)—How are they going to keep Big Red down on the farm?

Big Red, a stocky plow horse, moved in on the "Horsey" set by coming off his New Hampshire farm yesterday to win a special match race at Rockingham Park.

The farmhands' Man O'War (the thoroughbred champion, incidentally, bore the nickname "Big Red") won by a length and a half over Superfler, Kentucky plug horse champion owned by Prentice Burman of Cynthiana, Ky.

Travelling like a bovery bum caught in a Park Avenue penthouse, Big Red ran the half mile in 1:03 to cop the $1,000 winner-take-all prize money.
